
Mani's family lived in a village near Gingee in Villupuram district.
Mani liked only a few vegetables. Potatoes and ladies' finger were the two that he liked very much.
One day, when Amma served potato curry...

I don't want to eat potatoes today, because they are foreign vegetables.
No, they are not, Amma bought them from the vegetable shop near the bus stop!

Appa, Selvi is too small to understand that potatoes are not from India.
So what?
Our teacher told us that we should buy and eat locally grown food.
