3.1 Introduction

As everyone cannot produce each and every commodity that he/she uses in the day-to-day life, one has to buy them from companies, firm, stores, shops or individuals. In all these activities, business takes place. So, business is an organised effort of individuals to produce and sell the commodities that satisfies the needs of the society. Every business involves bills, profit, loss etc.

In this chapter, we are going to learn about the bills that we come across in everyday life. Also, we will learn about profit and loss in a transaction of a business.
