6.6.1 Methods of disinfection and Sterilization:

6.6.1.1 Mechanical Method

Scrubbing: Hand washing is one of the important procedures of a nurse in order to control and prevent self-infection as well as cross infection.

Filtration: Filtration is the passage of a liquid fluid or gases through a filter with pores small enough retain microbes – vaccine, toxins, enzymes.

e.g. - HEPA filter, Membranes filters (nitrocellulose)

Sedimentation: - It is used in the purification of water by this method the suspending material together with

Nursing-Gen_Chapter 06.indd 103 07/05/18 12:51 PM