is worthy of being sought for itself alone. Honesty, co-operation, creativity, beauty, discipline, respect etc. are some of the intrinsic values in management. On the other hand, instrumental values are ways of reaching intrinsic or end values, sometimes called goal values. Therefore, they form the basic values leading to another. Planning, skills, order and efficiency and technological satisfaction are examples of instrumental values.

- Factual and Normative Values: The other classification of values as factual or normative brings out the difference between the factual values that exist, regardless of their level of desirability and the normative values that have an ethical basis. The factual values also called descriptive, generally are based on people's preferences and desires. The normative are ethical values, which carry the idea of right or wrong. Some examples of factual values are honesty, religion, loyalty, faithfulness.

7.2.2 Goals

Goals are important factors in the management process. Goals are the desires that individuals or families are willing to work for. They are more definite and clear than values because they are to be accomplished. They are tangible things, objects, ends or purposes. Goal is an objective or purpose to be attained. They are specific ways of realizing the values one hold.

Definition: Goal is defined as an objective, condition or something you desire to achieve or attain at any given period or time.

At present, your goals are to complete your courses and obtain higher degree so as to get job in your chosen profession. As each of these goals are achieved, new goals, will emerge leading to other higher goals in your life.

Goals, like values, play an important role in your life. Values give meaning to your life. Goals on the other hand, point the direction you want your path to follow. Thus, it can be said that values and goals are inter-related. Values are the vehicles and goals are the highways you use to attain your desired quality of life.

7.2.2.1 Types of Goals

Goals are classified under the following heads.

They are classified:

I) According to the number of groups:

i) Individual goals are established by an individual for himself. These are based on his own values. He puts in efforts for their achievement and receives satisfaction to himself, for example scoring 70% marks in the examination.

ii) Group goals are established by the group. These are based on the some of the common values and interests of the group members, for example, achievement of 100% result of the class at the S.S.L.C. examination.
