II) According to duration for achievement of goals

Throughout life each individual and each family is always seeking some objectives.

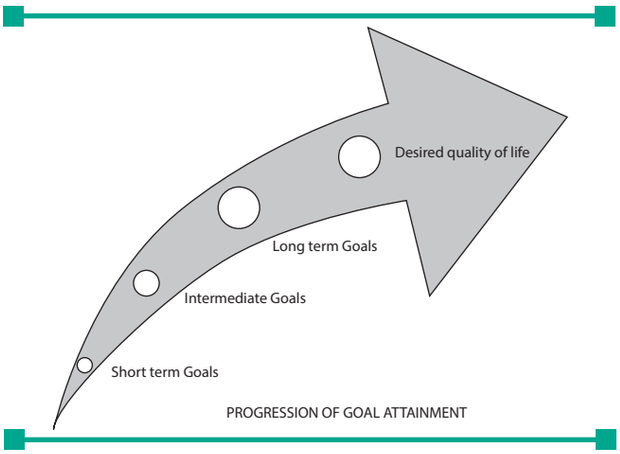

According to duration for achievement, goals are classified as short-term, intermediate and long-term goals.

i) Short-term goals

In short term goal, the period of attainment of goal is short. Example is to successfully complete the course of study. Since the achievement is anticipated in the near future, these goals usually involve a time period of six months or less.

ii) Intermediate goals

Intermediate goals are nothing but the link connecting between short term and long term goals. They have definite characteristics and serve a purpose in your life time achievement. The time duration involved in intermediate goals is longer than short term goals. Achievement of these goals is measured in terms of several months or years. For example, to complete your graduation you will require few years.

iii) Long term goal

The duration in achieving this goal is long. Classification differs from the other two, in regard to the time period, the degree of specificity and the extent of active implementation involved in attainment. Long term goals are those you have set for yourself in the distant future.

Long term goals may include one or more of the following – getting a good job in chosen profession, getting married, owning home or farm.

7.2.3 Standards

Standard is a scale of measurement of values. According to Nickell and Dorsey (1970), standards are a set of measure of values stemming from our value patterns, determining the amount and kind of interest in something and the satisfaction we receive. Standards serve as a measure or criterion for measurement of objects or ways of doing things.

There are standards that apply to a single situation or area such as standard of food or dress or conduct. Standards set the limits one will accept in working towards a goal.

Gross and Crandall classify standards as (1) conventional and (2) flexible.

i) Conventional Standards:

Conventional standards are those that are traditional and accepted by the community at large or by a social group within it. To illustrate
