

3. Electronic communication

Electronic communication can be referred to as any communication that requires the use of technology. For example: Video conference, Electronic mail (E-Mail), Voice mail, Facsimile (Fax), Cellular phone and Paging system.

4. Visual communication

Visual communication is a process of sending & receiving messages. Communication of ideas through visual images.

5. Body Language

The process of communication through sending and receiving wordless messages is known as Non verbal communication. Such messages can be communicated through gesture, body language or posture, facial expression and eye contact.

8.3.1 Teaching Learning Methods

Lecture Method:

1. It is one of the oldest methods of teaching
2. It refers to the teaching procedure involved in the clarification or explanation to the students of some major ideas. It places more emphasis on the presentation of the content.
3. In this method teacher is more active and the students are passive. In this method question answer procedure is used to keep the students attentive in the class.
4. This method is used to clarify matter, to expand content and motivate the students.

Chapter8_185-205.indd 190 31-01-2019 15:36:22