dining facilities or which is self-operative, which means the institutions hire their own staff to operate food services.

a. Welfare Catering: The provision of food and beverages to people to fulfill a social obligation is known as welfare catering. It includes catering in hospitals, schools, colleges, the armed forces and industrial catering. In hospitals, the patients are given nutritious food at a reasonable price so that the convalescence period is not too long.

Schools and universities provide on-campus food services to students and staff. Students stay as residents in school hostels and eat from the mess or school food service.

b. Industrial Catering: The provision of food and beverages to 'people at work,' in industries and factories at highly subsidized rates is called industrial catering. It is based on the assumption that if employees are fed better they are happy and more productive. Food is given at a concessional rate.

1.4 Functions of Food Service

A successful food service includes specific components organized in a particular pattern to optimize performance and efficiency based on the food and beverage they offer. But in most food services the following functions are carried out:

- Cleaning/washing.
- Storage.
- Food Preparation.
- Service.

a. Cleaning/Washing: The cleaning and washing section is first because every place in the food service should be clean and hygienic for ensuring safe food and water. This section should be located near the kitchen entrance so servers can quickly drop off dirty dishes and chefs can quickly find clean dishes.
