b. Storage: The storage area can be split into non-food storage and food storage. The non-food storage area can be split further into a section for disposable products, a section for cleaning supplies, and a section for the clean dishes in the cleaning/washing area. This area might also contain a receiving area for product deliveries. Food storage area is divided into cold and dry storage.

c. Food Preparation: The food preparation area is very important in food service because the maximum work is done here and the menu is transformed into tasty dishes. An area for prepreparation and an area for the actual production are needed. In large establishments the food production area may be broken into smaller sections like a baking section, grilling section, and frying section. If multicuisine is offered then the production area may be divided as Indian, Chinese and so on.
