The exchange energy is the basis for Hund's rule, which allows maximum multiplicity, that is electron pairing is possible only when all the degenerate orbitals contain one electron each.

Evaluate Yourself

8. Which ion has the stable electronic configuration? Ni^{2+} or Fe^{3+}.

11th Std Chemistry 038-067.indd 57 06-01-2021 15:06:52