HEART RATE
(NORMAL ECG)

HEART RATE = 300÷ (NUMBER OF LARGE SQUARES IN ONE R-R INTERVAL)
300÷4=75BPM

HEART RATE = 75 BPM

Normal Heart Rate = 70 to 80 BPM (Beats per minute) in Adult

Factors ThatCan Influence Heart Rate

- Activity level
- Fitness level
- Air temperature
- Body position
- Emotions & stress levels
- Body size
- Medications
- Food and drink
- Illness

- To get an approximately idea of how much blood is being pumped into artery system.
- To estimate the changes in the needs of body circulation.
- To understand the general condition of body, recovery, or death.
- To give emergency treatment if necessary.

STUDENT'S ACTIVITY

Mrs. king, an 87-year-old woman has been admitted with syncope. She lost her consciousness. What will be your assessment?

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Procedure

- Watch to count the pulse
- Chart and pen for documentation
- keep the patient in a comfortable position

Nursing-voc_Unit 06.indd 184 22-02-2019 4.45.57 PM