into words of letters. In the same way teach about the whole body anatomy and physiology then proceeding to each part of the body and its pathological changes with treatment needed.

(ii) Creating motivation

The nursing teacher should, arouse motivation by giving rewards and reinforcement.

(iii) Emphasis on Understanding

For all higher learning, what is needed is deep understanding and insight into the problem. Learning by insight (whether it is a geometrical problem, arithmetical sum or scientific experiment) saves time and energy.

So, the students must be introduced in to the problem solving methods of learning. The nursing students have to let us never consider ourselves finished nurses....we must be learning all of our lives.

LEARNING NEVER ENDS

DO YOU KNOW?

About a Nursing Student

"If she can study in this chaos, then handling stressful situations when she's a nurse will be a piece of cake."
