3. Responsibility towards Employees

Business needs employees or workers to work for it. These employees put their best effort for the benefit of the business. So it is the prime responsibility of every business to take care of the interest of their employees. If the employees are satisfied and efficient, then the only business can be successful. The responsibilities of business towards its employees include:

a. Timely and regular payment of wages and salaries.
b. Proper working conditions and welfare amenities.
c. Opportunity for better career prospects.
d. Job security as well as social security like facilities of provident fund, group insurance, pension, retirement benefits, etc.
e. Better living conditions like housing, transport, canteen, crèches etc.
f. Timely training and development.

4. Responsibility towards Suppliers

Suppliers are businessmen who supply raw materials and other items required by manufacturers and traders. Certain suppliers, called distributors, supply finished products to the consumers. The responsibilities of business towards these suppliers are:

a. Giving regular orders for purchase of goods.
b. Dealing on fair terms and conditions.
c. Availing reasonable credit period.
d. Timely payment of dues.

5. Responsibility towards Customers

No business can survive without the support of customers. As a part of the responsibility of business towards them the business should provide the following facilities:

a. Products and services must be able to take care of the needs of the customers.
b. Products and services must be qualitative
c. There must be regularity in supply of goods and services

After learning about Social Responsibility of the business in this chapter, one can understand the significance of Social Responsibility. The next chapter is about Business Environment and Protection which deals with the organization taking steps to protect both internal and external environment for their sustained growth and development.
