Read the following biography of A.Karuppan, a travelogue writer.

A. Karuppan (3 November 1911-10 September 1983) was a Tamil travelogue writer, journalist and documentary film maker from Tamil Nadu, India. He is most notable for pioneering travel writing in Tamil and for his documentary on Mahatma Gandhi.

Born in Kottaiyur in Madras Presidency, A. Karuppan completed his schooling in Tiruvannamalai. He was interested in travelling and began a world tour in the 1930s. In 1935, he went to Japan to learn photography at the Imperial College of Technology, Tokyo and studied there for a year. In 1937, he joined the New York Institute of Photography and completed a one-year diploma course in photography.

In 1937, he started work on the documentary 'Mahatma Gandhi: Twentieth Century Prophet.' He set up a company named "Documentary Films Limited" and started collecting archival footage of Gandhi. He visited many places in India, London, and South Africa and acquired large amounts of archival footage. In addition, he himself shot many contemporary scenes of Gandhi. The documentary film was released on 23 August 1940. It received widespread coverage from the Indian press and a few international newspapers like The New York Times. The documentary originally had voice-overs in Tamil and was later dubbed in Telugu.

He recorded some of his experiences in making the documentary in a series of articles in the magazine Kumari Malar (published by him) in 1943. These articles were eventually published as a book titled Annal Adichuvattil (In the footsteps of the Mahatma).

He is considered one of the foremost writers of modern travelogues in Tamil. He collected more than 140 travel essays in Tamil belonging to the 1825–1940 period, edited and published them as a book in 1940. His own travel essays were published first in 1940 as Ulagam sutrum Tamilan (The Globe Trotting Tamil). He has written a total of seventeen travel books.
