Amy :

She took Dick to the dentist and was going to stop at Mrs. Brant's for a recipe on her way home. She ought to be here soon.

Jim : And your father?

Amy :

In Chicago on business, but why all the questions, Jim?

Jim :

Well, you see... (He is interrupted by the ring of the telephone. Amy exits left to answer it. Her voice can be heard clearly.)

Amy :

Hello. Yes, Mother – I know. Isn't it awful? How will you get home? Yes, mother, I'm listening carefully. (Amy's voice grows very serious) Yes – yes – yes, I will. No, mother, no, I won't. Jim Hall is here and Rose Field too. Yes, all right, I'll tell them. Goodbye. (Amy returns to the room. She is looking very scared.) Mother can't get home from Mrs. Brant's. The bridges between here and town are under water. Rose, mother says you are to telephone your mother right away and tell her you will spend the night here.

Rose :

I will. That will be fun! (Hurries from the room)

Amy :

Betty, you and I are to fill all the bowls, tubs, pails and pitchers with fresh water in case the town supply is cut off or made unsafe to drink. Mother says she hopes you will stay and help us, Jim.

Jim :

That's just why I came. Amy, I think I'll look up a lantern and…

Betty :

(Interrupting) I've got a flashlight. I'll get it and some candles.

Rose :

(From outside, still at the telephone, with irritation) Central! Central! I'm trying to get Main 3022—I can't – (There is a pause and Rose comes to the door, her face frightened.) The telephone is dead! I can't get Central. There isn't even a buzzing on the line!

The Red Cross Society is an international humanitarian service organisation. It is the biggest, independent non-religious, non-political, non-sectarian and voluntary relief organisation treating people equally all over the world without any discrimination as to their nationality race and religious beliefs.

It was established in 1863 in Geneva, Switzerland by Jean Henry Dunant, the Father of Red Cross movement and recipient of noble award for peace in 1901.

Jim :

Means the lines are down between here and town! Well, girls, let's get organized! Betty, look up your flashlight and candles,
